COMPANY PROFILE

From humble beginnings, our company was founded in the garage of Schalk Exley on 10 June 1994. Before long, the high calibre of our workmanship and service earned us an unmatched reputation across Zululand, establishing us as one of the region's premier firms. This dedication to excellence is clearly reflected in the prestigious industry awards we receive year after year.

We view our mission of delivering genuine value as a continuous journey rather than a destination; our successes over the last 32 years are simply milestones pointing the way to even greater achievements down the road. Our reputation for reliability and quality is built on our meticulous attention to detail and a steadfast commitment to after-sales support—a vital component of our quality control process. Because our specialized systems demand the highest standards, we service them exclusively through our own skilled, dedicated after-sales fleet. We believe that long-term operational quality is just as critical as the product itself, ensuring that every unique project operates flawlessly.

Personal Profile:

Schalk Exley
Director / Owner

Meet Our Founder: Schalk Exley

Schalk Exley's journey in the HVAC industry began in Richards Bay immediately after matriculating in 1991, serving his apprenticeship under Mr. Steven Vermaak at Richards Bay Refrigeration. On 10 June 1994, he founded Exland Cooling. Operating initially from his garage with a single bakkie, Schalk's commitment to quality quickly drove the company out of the garage, into dedicated commercial premises, and onto a path of rapid expansion.

In 1995, Schalk was appointed the Zululand dealer for Panasonic, earning the full franchise by October 1996 due to his exceptional standards of service and sales. Over the decades, he has guided Exland from strength to strength, partnering with top-tier brands like LG, Samsung, and Alliance, and establishing the company as a household name for premium climate control.

Schalk is a collaborative leader who empowers his team through trust and delegated responsibility. He believes that the true success of any project lies in creating a perfectly comfortable environment that helps his clients' businesses thrive. His founding philosophy remains the driving force behind Exland today: with true determination, there are no limits, and every barrier can be overcome.
